³ Is my business eligible for City collection of my trash and recyclables?

Eligibility is based on quantity, frequency and type. By regulation, certain types of businesses are not eligible for City collection. Manufacturers, wholesalers, gas stations and automotive repair shops are not eligible for City collection service and must use a licensed hauler.

- The premises are not eligible for City collection if it contains more than six (6) dwelling units.
- The premises are not eligible for City collection if the location receives licensed hauler service in any form. Example: If any unit in the building contracts licensed hauler services then the entire building is not eligible for city collection and must contract for waste and recycling collection through a licensed hauler.
- The premises must not require collection frequency more than once per week. Example: Restaurants with food waste require collection more than once per week and are therefore not eligible for City collection.
- For eligible properties, the set out quantity limitations for trash are no more than 6 containers or 12 bags or proportionate combination of the two for City of Philadelphia collection. There is no limit on the volume of recycling which can be set out.
